PRESIDENT'S MESSAGE

By Barb Kubik

With the help of the National Park Service staff at Lewis and Clark National Historic Park, the Pacific County Friends of Lewis and Clark on the Long Beach Peninsula, the Washington State Historical Society, and local volunteers, the Washington State Chapter planted 200 native shrubs and trees near the Dismal Nitch interpretive walk [Megler Cove].

Using a grant of $500 from the Lewis and Clark Trail Heritage Foundation's Trail Stewardship program and a $100 grant from the Pacific County Friends of Lewis and Clark, the chapter purchased red-osier dogwood, salmon berry, thimble berry, Nootka rose, Western Red Cedar, Western/Pacific Crabapple, vine maple and red elderberry from Wabash Farms, a native plant nursery in Enumclaw, WA. The shrubs and trees were planted along the river's edge in an effort to protect the river's bank.

On Friday, March 23 and Saturday, March 24, volunteers marked the site with color-coded bamboo stakes, planted the trees and shrubs, and carefully marked them. The weather even cooperated--it was cool and windy, but sunny! As you can see, it was also very muddy!!!!

Stop by the site sometime to admire the chapter's handiwork! You can park in the Megler Rest Area parking lot, and stroll down river, following a nice trail to the site! Better yet, put on your thinking caps! Grant money will be available next year for trail stewardship activities, and I would like to see us take on another project!

See you all in the Columbia Gorge the weekend of April 27th!

Proceeding on,
Barb Kubik
President

ANNUAL MEETING MINUTES

Washington Chapter, Lewis and Clark Heritage Foundation, Inc

February 4, 2012 Minutes
Washington State History Museum

The meeting was called to order at 1:00 PM by Chapter President Barb Kubik

Minutes from the prior meeting were provided and approved, and the Membership report showed about 45 paid members so far for 2012.

Financial Report was provided by Nick Giovanni, and will be published separately.

For Chapter business, it was decided to keep the same slate of officers for 2012, and so was handled by acclamation. A nominating committee will be established for the 2013 meeting. Steve Wang provided a new draft brochure, and suggestions were made for him to consider.

Hal Stolz provided the status of the BSA patch, which may actually be a generic patch that the BSA can use.

A special Thank You from the Washington Chapter to Timothy Bates & Susan Hamilton and Robert & Barbara Danielson for their generous donations to the chapter. Collectively they donated an extra $120.00.

John Orthmann will check with Sacajawea State Park on the progress made on the canoe shelter to be done as a Chapter project. Comment was made that if there is no progress soon then the Chapter will consider another project.

It was moved and seconded, with a unanimous vote, to make a one-time donation of $500 to assist with the expenses for the Lewis and Clark Re-enactors expenses at Heritage Days. This will be handled through the Knappton Cove Historical Society which is the parent organization of the Northwest Living Historians. John Orthmann abstained from the vote.

Tri Chapter meeting plans are progressing, and are being handled by Larry McClure. We will have more specific information soon.

Jim Sayce provided an update on the planting of native trees and shrubs at Dismal Nitch, tentatively set for February 25.

Kris Townsend provided an update on the Chapter website. The site is well done but more content is needed.

Ryan Karlson provided information on the status of State Parks, and said that there will be more partnering with private organizations.

LEWIS AND CLARK TRAIL HERITAGE FOUNDATION 2012 ANNUAL MEETING
CLARKSVILLE, INDIANA / LOUISVILLE, KENTUCKY, JULY 28-AUGUST 1, 2012

FALLS OF THE OHIO: WHERE THEY MET, DEPARTED AND RETURNED

Join us for the 2012 Lewis and Clark Trail Heritage Foundation Annual meeting July 28 through August 1, 2012 at the Holiday Inn, Lakeview in Clarksville. The event is hosted by the Ohio River Chapter.

Visit the Falls of the Ohio River where Lewis and Clark joined forces before setting off on October 26, 1803, on their expedition to find a route to the Pacific Ocean. The co-captains returned to the Falls of the Ohio on November 5, 1806 before parting company and returning by separate routes to report to President Thomas Jefferson on the findings of their historic expedition.

The Lewis and Clark Expedition is deeply tied to the Falls of the Ohio. It is where the two great explorers joined forces. They enlisted the nucleus of the Corps of Discovery at the Falls. It is from the Falls that they departed together on October 26, 1803, and it is to the Falls that they returned together before parting company on November 5, 1806.

During your stay at the 2012 Trail Heritage Foundation

Annual Meeting you will have the opportunity to visit a number of sites that mark the importance of this area in the expedition.

THE ADVENTURES OF LEWIS & CLARK

THE MOVIE THAT NEVER WAS (PART II)

In the January issue of Worthy of Notice, we imagined the epic Lewis and Clark motion picture adventure that we all wish we could see: The Adventures of Lewis & Clark.

“Filmed” in the golden age of Hollywood, just after WWII, this heroic blockbuster could only have been directed by one man: John Ford.

When you think of such Ford classics as Fort Apache, Drums Along the Mohawk and They Were Expendable, it is not difficult to guess who might have led a stellar cast in the roles of the Captains...

John Wayne and Henry Fonda in Fort Apache

Henry Fonda as Meriwether Lewis. John Wayne as William Clark.

Both actors received top billing in many films directed by John Ford, and the three men were close personal friends. It would be almost inconceivable for the great director to select any other actors to portray Lewis and Clark.

If you wish to imagine Fonda as Capt. Lewis, you should watch him as the spit and polish Lt. Col. Owen Thursday of Fort Apache, or the iron-willed Wyatt Earp of My Darling Clementine.

To envision Wayne as Capt. Clark, see him as Lt. Col. Kirby York in Rio Grande, or as Lt. “Rusty” Ryan in They Were Expendable (or, really, in just about any other John Wayne movie ever made).
