MEETING MINUTES

On October 18th, 2014 The Washington Chapter of the LCTHF held it's fall meeting at Beacon Rock State Park. The meeting was attended by President Robert Heacock, Bonnie Chew, Layne Corneliuson, Glen Kirkpatrick, Rennie and Barb Kubik, John Orthmann, Tim Underwood, Doc Wesselius and Roger Wendlick, . The following are the chapter minutes for that meeting...

Meeting was called to order at 10:15am.

Chapter treasurer Rennie Kubik announced that the chapter gained $4,500.00 from the annual meeting in August.

Barb mentioned that the foundation is considering creating a $2,000.00 'restricted fund' grant to help future chapters host the national meeting. This grant would help cover opening expenses.

A discussion was held about what to do with the Bill Lauman book collection. It was recommended that many of the books be donated to the Mid-Columbia regional library in the Kennewick and Pasco, WA.

Glen Kirkpatrick talked about the upcoming Oregon chapter holiday event (see page one).

The Greg Smith tourism brochure grant recommendation was discussed. It was decided that we will express our concerns to the foundation about some of the brochure's shortcomings. Robert Heacock said that he would compile the concerns and submit an e-mail to the foundation [Editors' note: Rob sent the message in the days following the meeting.]

Barb Kubik proposed that the chapter should look into replacing the blue beaded belt that was stolen from Sacajawea state park. She said she would have more information regarding this at the annual meeting in February.

Tim Underwood talked about the Washington chapter's upcoming elections. Members will elect a President, Vice-President, Secretary, Treasurer and board members.

Doc Wesselius agreed to be the speaker at the annual meeting in February, 2015.

The meeting concluded at 11:30 am.

Respectfully Submitted by Layne Corneliuson, Secretary WA-LCTHF

O R E G O N C H A P T E R T O H O N O R K E I T H H A Y

The Oregon Chapter of the LCTHF is celebrating the many and varied contributions of the late Keith G. Hay through the installation of a memorial bench along the River Walk in Astoria, OR, which affords a clear view of Point William - today's Tongue Point - where the Corps of Discovery spent 10 "wet and miserable" days from November 27 to December 6, 1805, a site not accessible to the public.

Keith's interest in the Lewis and Clark Expedition began in 1963 when he joined the US Bureau of Outdoor Recreation and worked on the first national Lewis and Clark Trail Commission. In 1966 he received the Commission's Jefferson Peace Medal for his two-year study of the expedition's route and co-authored "The Lewis and Clark Trail: A Proposal for Development" which recommended the creation and preservation of a "recreational ribbon" along the 11-state trail.

Keith Hay

Keith, a founder and past president of the Oregon Chapter, was vice-president of the Lewis and Clark Bicentennial Oregon, a founder of the American Greenways Program, and author of The Lewis and Clark Columbia River Trail: A Guide for Paddlers, Hikers and Other Explorers, a book that covers the Columbia from the Bonneville Dam to the river's mouth. He received the LCTHF's Meritorious Achievement Award in 2011.

Tax-deductible contributions to the memorial bench, estimated at a cost of $1500, may be sent to Richard Hohnbaum, Treasurer, LCTHF Oregon Chapter, 6916 Wheatland Road, Keizer, OR, 97303. Please make your checks payable to the LCTHF Oregon Chapter. For more information on the Lewis and Clark Trail in Oregon, please visit www.or-lcthf.org/.

THE ADVENTURES OF LEWIS & CLARK THE MOVIE THAT NEVER WAS (PART VIII): THE INDIANS

Our imagining of the film that never was, The Adventures of Lewis and Clark, continues with the cast of Native American characters. Our movie is "made" in the late 1940's, when native people were seldom played by native actors; however, we have done our best to fill roles with Native Americans.

Linda Darnell as Sacajawea. As we noted in a previous article, the beautiful star of Star Dust and A Letter to Three Wives plays the iconic role.

Darnell

John Big Tree as Sheheke. Big Tree played memorable roles in Drums Along the Mohawk and She Wore a Yellow Ribbon, both directed by 'our' director, John Ford.

Big Tree

Bruce Cabot as The Partisan.

Cabot

The star of the original King Kong, Cabot spent much of his long career in supporting roles, often as a sidekick for John Wayne.

John Carradine as Black

Buffalo. The prolific character actor made 11 films with John Ford, including classics such as Stagecoach and The Grapes of Wrath.

Carradine

Jay Silverheels as Cameahwait. The actor best known as

Silverheels

Tonto in The Lone Ranger portrays the Shoshone leader who proved to be Sacajawea's brother.

Daniel Simmons as Cobo-way. Usually billed as "Chief Yowlachie," Simmons was a member of the Yakima tribe. In Red River, he memorably won Walter Brennan's false teeth in a card game - but let him borrow them back for meals.

Simmons

Jim Thorpe as Twisted Hair. Known to the world as the hero of the 1912 Olympics, and the first great star of college football, Thorpe turned to acting in his later years; sadly, he often played small, un-credited parts.

NEXT NEWSLETTER: THE REST OF THE CAST

HBO to make Lewis and Clark Mini-Series

HBO will make a six-hour miniseries titled "Lewis and Clark." The project is to be based on the best-selling Undaunted Courage: Meriwether Lewis, Thomas Jefferson and the Opening of the West by the late Stephen E. Ambrose. The new miniseries will focus on the achievements of Lewis and Clark as well as the physical and emotional toll it takes with them.

Casey Affleck will play the role of Meriwether Lewis, but no other roles have been announced. The production is seeking Native or First Nations actors, particularly those who speak native languages - including Shoshone, Nez Perce, Mandan, Hidatsa, Arikara, Blackfeet, Chinook, Clatsop, Walla Walla, Sioux and Shawnee. It is possible that the role of Sacajawea will be played by a relative unknown.

The new series will be produced by Tom Hank's Playtone production, Plan B's Brad Pitt and Edward Norton's Class 5's production company. John Curran will direct.

KICKSTARTER CAMPAIGN FOR LEWIS AND CLARK MOVIE

Message from Jay Russell, Executive Director, Lewis and Clark Foundation, Great Falls MT

I'd like to invite you take a look at a film project the Lewis & Clark Foundation has in the works. The film is a documentary based on the book by Dr. David Peck:

Or Perish in the Attempt: the Hardship and Medicine of the Lewis and Clark Expedition

It's a fascinating look at the way medicine was practiced 200 years ago, particularly as applied to the 2 ½ year wilderness journey of the Lewis and Clark Expedition. Remedies such as bloodletting, ingesting mercury, etc. were treatments used, and they often did more harm than good. These are the days of Dr. Benjamin Rush, and his "Bilious pills".

The producer is Craig Wirth, who has won 4 Emmy awards for his work in documentaries. Take a look at the film trailer we've produced on you tube. We've launched a Kickstarter campaign to complete the project. The filming is complete and was shot in a 1080p HD format. The trailer has some really nice cinematography – check it out. It's about 5 minutes long.

For the most part, all that we have left is the film editing. We've launched a Kickstarter campaign to raise $15,000 to complete the film editing. We have 30 days to meet the $15,000 goal – the campaign was launched November 1, and thus our deadline is November 30, just a few days away. We are a little more than half-way to reaching our goal! However the caveat with Kickstarter is that it is an all-or-nothing proposition. We must meet the goal, or we receive nothing.

Pledges start at $1, and rewards are given for pledges starting at $15 – more rewards are available at higher pledge levels. If you could help us by:

1. Spreading the Word, post it on Facebook, etc. Our Facebook page (Lewis & Clark Foundation) has some good information and postings – if you are on facebook and could share these, we would appreciate it!
2. Consider a pledge. The more backers and the closer to our goal, the higher our ranking on Kickstarter, with more opportunities for publicity. You can do this on the Kickstarter website.

Thanks for your help!
